

Fatigued driving is the #1 safety problem in the trucking industry today, and is a factor in nearly 40% of all crashes nationwide. Unfortunately, it is routine practice for many trucking companies to violate the hours of service and related FMCSR safety rules. Greedy, profit-driven motives have made fatigued driving in the trucking industry a vast, largely unchecked problem resulting in the deaths of thousands of innocent men, women and children each year.

We are all at risk each day we share the roads with big trucks. This widespread path of danger, death and destruction must stop.
